

CleanWell™ Personal Care Product Ingredients

We believe in ingredient transparency. That means you'll find our ingredients listed on the label of each of our products as well as on our website.

You may notice that some of the ingredient names aren't exactly short. That's because we use the International Nomenclature of Cosmetic Ingredients (INCI) names. We hope that more companies will begin to follow the INCI naming convention because by its design INCI delivers consistency, which will make it easier for you to compare ingredients on all the personal care products you use.
